

The Daily Courant.

Monday, September 20. 1708.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Sept. 22.

Valenciennes, Sept. 19.

THE 10th of this Month the King's Army pass'd the Marque and encamp'd with the Right at Ennevelin, the Left at Atiches, and the Centre at Entreulle. The same Day two Battalions of the Enemy advanc'd to possess themselves of the Castle of Aigremont, where the Count d'Arragnan had plac'd M. Bequet a Captain in the Regiment of Ifenghien, with 200 Men. He defended himself with such Vigour, that the Enemy were repuls'd with the Loss of 150 Men kill'd, among them a General Officer who commanded them, and 7 other Officers. The 11th the Enemy were beaten out of Seclin. The same Day the Deputies of the States of Artois, had Audience of the Duke of Burgundy, being introduc'd by M. de Chamillart Minister and Secretary of State; and the Abbot de la Croix Grand Vicar and Provost of the Church of Arras, being the Deputy for the Clergy, made a Speech in the Name of the whole. The Duke receiv'd them favourably, and promis'd them that he would use all his Endeavours to keep off the Enemy from their Frontier. The 12th a Battery on an Eminence began to play on the Village of Entiers, in which the Enemy, being favour'd by the Situation of the Ground had fortified themselves, as well as at Fretin, in such a manner as render'd the Approaches to their Camp very difficult. Our Army had intelligence from Lille, that the 11th M. de Permangle and the Marquis de Maillebois made a Salley, in which they beat the Enemy from the Angles of the Glacis of the Counterscarp, ruin'd their Lodgments, carry'd off all their Tools, and return'd into the Place with 40 Prisoners, having kill'd a great Number of the Enemy: That the Night between the 13th and 14th the Besieged levell'd a Part of the Trenches and adjoining Works: That the Place was not at all distress'd; and that they were inform'd the Enemy began to want Ammunition and Provisions. Upon this Information it was resolv'd to suspend the Attack of the Enemy's Lines, and to encamp below Tournay, to cut off all their Convoys, which must necessarily pass between the Lis and the Schelde. Accordingly the 15th the Army repass'd the Marque, the Enemy making no Motion to hinder it. They encamp'd with the Left at Bersee between Orchies and Mons en Peule, and thence detach'd 20 Squadrons and some Battalions to Doway, 7 Squadrons and 2 Battalions to Arras, and a like Number to Bethune, to frighten the Enemy and hinder their Excursions. The 16th the Army encamp'd below Tournay: The 17th they pass'd the Schelde; and the 18th extended themselves from Tournay down to Herine. M. de Chemeraut, de Souternon, and de la Chastre, are at Potres with a Body of Troops, who have a Communication and are protected by the Army. 'Tis propos'd by this Disposition to cut off the Convoys of the Allies, and to hinder them from continuing the Siege of Lille. The 15th they were possess'd of no more than an Angle of the Cover'd Way, and the Breaches which were not then perfected, were repair'd by large Timber. The Enemy's Army is extremely fatigu'd, and 'tis reckon'd they have already lost above 12000 Men of their best Troops.

From the Paris Letter, dated Sept. 21.

Paris, Sept. 21. The Elector of Bavaria has left the Army on the Rhine, and is gone to the Baths of Plombieres. As to the Siege of Lille, our Letters confirm, that the Marshal de Boufflers has made good advantage of the Intermittion of the Fire of the Besiegers; having repair'd the Breaches, and render'd their Attacks more difficult. A Captain of Grenadiers nam'd du Bois, having swum the Rivers and Canals, got into Lille nak'd; and after having view'd all the Works, had the good Fortune to return to the Duke of Burgundy; to whom he deliver'd a Letter from the Marshal de Boufflers, which confirm'd his having taken a Resolution to defend the Place to the last Extremity, having caus'd Intrenchments to be made in several Places, and also a third Ditch to the Citadel. This Captain reports, that there were not many Sick in the Garrison, nor among the Officers; that M. de la Lande, the chief Ingenier was sick of a Fever; and that the Marquis de l'Isle was slightly wounded in the Arm. They write from Court, that the King has order'd him a Reward suitable to the Merit of this Service. A Gentleman of the Country of Artois, who was in the Camp of the Allies to treat of Contributions, reports, that 'twas the common Rumour in their Army that they wanted Powder; and that they would soon want Provisions: And this Report has been confirm'd by all the Deserters.

Menin, Sept. 20. General Dopf has lain indispos'd here for some Days, but is now recovering. We are baking Bread for our Army, which at present is in no Want.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Sept. 25.

From the Camp before Lille, Sept. 20. The Night between the 17th and 18th M. du Mee Director, attack'd, with 50 Grenadiers and 50 Fusileers, a Traverse in the Cover'd Way, which he carried, beating the Enemy from it with Loss. But the Fire of the Ramparts hinder'd him from keeping that Post, which he could only ruine; and on this Occasion he receiv'd a Contusion in the Head. The Night between the 18th and 19th, at the Attack on the Left two Traverses in the Cover'd Way were attack'd, but could not be kept, because of the Fire of the Ramparts. We had about 40 Men kill'd or wounded. This Afternoon all was ready for making an Assault on the Tenailles, and on the Horn-Work on our Right; but the Enemy having set on fire our Gallery over the Ditch on the Left of the Tenaille, we have been oblig'd to defer the Attack.

From the Leiden Courant, dated Sept. 26.

From the Camp at Lannoy, Sept. 22. Last Night at half an Hour past 6, our Men carry'd Sword in Hand the double Tenaille and other Out-works before Lille; but in the Night the Enemy drove our Men out of an Angle of the Left Tenaille: Yet we kept Possession of the Angle of the Right. Prince Eugene was wounded above his Left Eye.

From the Army of the Allies commanded by the Duke of Marlborough at Lannoy, Sept. 24. My Lord Duke having an Account from General Erle, that he arriv'd at Ostend the 20th Instant with the Forces under his Command, has sent an Officer thither with Orders concerning them. The Enemy's Army continue encamp'd between Audenarde and Tournay; and M. de la Mothe is march'd with his Detachment towards Bruges. The 21st Brigadier Landsberg was order'd to march with 6 Battalions and 8 Squadrons and encamp near Courtray, whither 11 Squadrons more were order'd at the same time. The Prince of Savoy is in so fair a Way of Recovery of the Wound he receiv'd in his Forehead on Friday Night, that 'tis hop'd he may be abroad agen in a Day or two. During his being oblig'd to keep keep in his Quarters, the Duke of Marlborough has been every Day at the Siege, and was last Night in the Trenches during the whole time of the Attack of the Tenaile on the Left and part of the Counterfarp; 400 Grenadiers and as many Fusiliers were appointed for this Service, who in a short time were made Masters of the Tenaile, and made a very good Lodgment there.

Hague, Sept. 25. ' Prince Eugene. was wounded at the beginning of the Attack on the Outworks of Lille the 21st Instant, a little above one of his Eyes, by a Musquet-ball, which made no Fracture in the Bone. The 22d he mounted on Horseback, and would have gone into the Trenches, but was hinder'd by King Augustus. The 23d he din'd at the Prince of Hesse-Cassel's Quarters. The Attack on the 21st was very hot: The Besiegers carried the double Tenaile, and also the Hornwork on the Right; but were afterwards oblig'd to quit one of the Angles of the Tenaile, not without a very Vigorous Dispute. The Hornwork on the Left was not taken. The Duke of Marlborough has since reinford'd Prince Eugene's Army with a considerable Number of Grenadiers and Fusiliers; the Siege will be vigorously push'd on; and such Measures are taken, that we can entertain no Doubt of its being brought to a happy Issue.
